WE NOMINATE

George Joseph Cooke Jr., one of the far-seeing and articulate spokesmen for American higher education, who this week—on the same day "Pay-As-You-Go" Beardsly Ruml was proclaiming that colleges and universities are squandering their financial resources—was elevated to the post of Assistant to Princeton President Robert F. Goheen in fund-raising matters. At the same time, the 59-year old Cooke, probably the most astute fund-raiser in Princeton's recorded history, was named Midwestern Manager of "$53 Million for Princeton," the three-year campaign launched last February for desperately needed capital funds.

The Chicago-born Cooke, bachelor president of the Princeton Class of 1922 and a University staff member since 1946, represents the post-World War II generation of "academic laymen," meaning individuals as dedicated to matters administrative as their faculty colleagues are to teaching and research. As Princeton's alumni-directed Annual Giving Campaign has advanced from $216,000 in 1945-46 to a staggering total of nearly $1,400,000 in 1958-59, with almost three out of every four Princeton alumni participating, Cooke has been the catalyst, or the link between the University's dollar-needs and alumni objectives and organizations.

One measure of Cooke's effectiveness, aside from the fact that he has been largely responsible for raising an estimated $11,000,000 in the past 12 years, is the number of awards the Princeton University Fund has collected over the course of 18 months. The 1956-57 drive produced no less than four distinctive honors, including the Time-Life Award for the "Direct Mail Campaign of the Year" and a special citation for training volunteer workers, while this spring Cooke accepted from the U.S. Steel Corporation the first-place Alumni Giving Incentive Award for privately sustained universities.

There is a striking analogy between Cooke's business career in the 1920's and 1930's, followed by his delayed appearance on the educational scene in 1946, and his attempts to play a meaningful role in World War II, an effort capped by a brilliant combat record with the Air Force. Successful as he was in the warehousing business in Chicago, and subsequently in executive sales positions and advertising in New York, Cooke, a sometime contributor to New Yorker Magazine, was invariably interested in the general field of human relations—the kind of unusual and challenging job he took over here.

For nearly two years, 1940-42, Cooke pulled every string he could reach before he succeeded in enlisting as private at age 42. Three years later, following 28 successive months in the European Theater of Operations, he returned to civilian life. In the interim he had been a waist-gunner and radio operator on bombers and paratroop carriers, had accumulated eight battle stars and the Air Medal with two clusters, and had been a crew-member of the C-47 that landed General Matthew Ridgway in Normandy on D-Day, 1944. Next June, when he is inducted as president of the 800-Institution American Alumni Council, it may be recalled that he also volunteered for B-29 duty in the Pacific.

For helping establish new standards for alumni support of education among all American colleges; for seeing more clearly than most that higher education is this country's first line of defense; for believing deeply in the things for which he stands; be is Town Topics' nominee for Over Growth in Township. One of the Eastern seaboard's most desirable residential communities — Princeton Township — continued to experience growing pains in the past week as opinions understandably differed on the best procedure for guiding its inevitable population boom.

Last Wednesday, the second well-attended hearing on the municipality's Master Plan drew varied and occasionally conflicting thoughts on guiding Township growth. Among the major points discussed: how large a welcome mat should be spread out for "light industry"? (See story, page 3.)

At a special meeting Tuesday night, party lines split, as the lone Democrat (William Marvel) teamed with three Republicans to vote against G.O.P. Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman. A 4-1 split, rare in that the other committee-men sided against their executive officer, brought passage of the controversial amendment to the zoning ordinance, removing the "saving" clause. The clause permitted developers who had subdivided their land between 1948 and 1955 to keep the divisions, even if they were smaller than the required lot size under the 1955 regulations.

"I can't feel that this amendment should be adopted," Mayor Fairman said. "I assume the 1955 Planning Board felt that the exception was reasonable. They didn't set a cut-off date and probably assumed that the exception would do more good for the Township in the long run if the properties involved were developed under the original status."

"Until property is used," explained Township attorney Gordon Griffin, "it is subject to the zoning power and any upgrading that may take place." Mr. Griffin also emphasized that the isolated, individual lot, even though it is vacant, has a status which cannot be removed by upgrading. Councilman Stanley Smoyer said that Township Committee, realizing the controversial nature of the amendment, was acting only after a thorough study of the properties involved and after conferences with zoning experts.

Blasting Blasted Again. Acting on the request of about a dozen property owners, Township committee adopted a resolution on blasting done by Kingston Trap Rock. In the resolution, drawn up by attorney Thomas Cook on behalf of several clients, Township Committee requests Kingston Trap Rock to conduct its blasting so as to prevent the damage that Mr. Cook's clients say has occurred to their homes.

The resolution also requests the State Commission of Labor and Industry to continue its present investigation of blasting at Kingston and to prescribe controls which the company should follow. In addition, the resolution asks for state legislation to provide more stringent blasting control.

Copies of the resolution, passed unanimously by the Committee, will be sent to Kingston Trap Rock, to the Commission of Labor and Industry and to the Chief of the Bureau of Mine Safety. Nine affidavits indicating damage to homes, said to have been caused by blasting, are attached to the resolution.

Mr. Cook said his clients complained primary blasts involving 10,000 to 15,000 pounds of explosives, "with an effect like an earthquake," in Mr. Cook's words, and secondary blasts in which air concussion is the chief nuisance. "In one case," Mr. Cook said, "I know that my neighbor, Mrs. David Dodge (706 Princeton-Kingston Road) was sitting in her bedroom when a blast went off, and actually saw a crack appear in the wall of the room."

In a letter to Mr. Cook, Mrs. Lewis Hicks, Herrontown Road and Snowden Lane, said that deep cracks had appeared in her cinder-block swimming pool and that, two weeks after her house had been re-plastered, cracks re-appeared.

The relationship between blasting and well pollution are specific tank problems. In Herrontown area was brought up by Mrs. Ferris Thomsen, Herrontown Road, in a letter to Township clerk Joseph Nini. Mrs. Thomsen suggested that blasts might have caused cracks in well slots.

"It is possible for Kingston to control these blasts if they will," Mr. Cook said.

As background for future Committee action on the extension of water lines, Mr. Griffin explained that, while the Committee would like to extend the lines and assess property owners for them as public improvements, it — Continued on Page 2 wel felt that enabling legislation would be needed before this could be done.

Mr. Griffin said that until 1951, municipalities had specific authority to do this, but that it was taken away because the state felt that general sections of the law covered the situation.

It has turned out, Mr. Griffin continued, that present laws are not enough. He said that a Mercer County Assemblyman has agreed to introduce legislation if Township Committee decides to proceed with water line extension.

In an unscheduled flurry of debate, several residents of the Sycamore Road area protested Committee plans to assess Sycamore Road property owners for paving and improvements. They said they felt that the Township should pay because changes in Township road plans were responsible for the fact that the developer had not improved Sycamore.

After being signed by 14 residents of Sycamore and Balsam Roads was presented to Mayor Fairman and held by him for the public hearing on the Sycamore ordinance.

Agabill Brothers Inc., Trenton contractors, were awarded the contract for paving Riverside. The figure: $117,728.75. Bids for construction of the Prospect sewers were all too high and Township Committee will advertise for new bids.

The Police-Community Relations Institute has been established to help policemen to a better understanding of the various cultural and religious groups within their communities.

ROUNDUP

RE PARKING AND SPEEDING: The Borough isn't ready to make an announcement yet, but steady attention is being paid to increasing shortage of parking space around the Pennsylvania Railroad Station . . . Borough, Railroad and University officials conferred at length last week on the difficult situation that exists on lower University Place . . . Mayor Male, without mentioning meters, reports that "with a spirit of wholehearted cooperation evidenced on all sides, it appears that in the very near future steps can be taken to relieve some of the long-standing traffic problems in the area."

The Township Committee has gone after the State Highway Department for the fourth year in row with a request to lower the 50-mile speed limit on State Road 206 from Arretton Road northwards . . . the State has rejected three previous pleas, reporting that radar checks show at least 85% of the cars using 206 go 50 miles an hour and since this is legal, the maximum speed is permitted.

Township officials also want a reduction on Stockton Street from Elm Road to Quaker Road, stressing the curving nature of the highway in the Edgewater area, and on the Princeton-Kings-ton Road, where records show accidents on the increase . . . the letter to the Highway Department also asks for installation of a traffic light at Nassau and Riverside before the new school in that area is completed next September . . . the Township Committee takes the stand that a signal is needed at that intersection even if school pedestrian traffic is not involved.

MAY MEANDERINGS: At mid-week, Princeton itself had been little affected by the strike of Public Service electrical workers . . . a spokesman for the big utility company in Newark reported that "only a couple" of members of the union itself are out here and that 17 members of the Utility Co-workers Association (in the Nassau Street commercial office) are refusing to cross picket lines . . . around town, however, service failures have been reported in the Hopewell area, in Clarksville and in the Groves Mill-Cranbury section . . . supervisors are making repairs as quickly as possible but are avoiding accidents by not working at night.

A first-hand look at Township areas listed as having possible sewage and well pollution problems will be taken this Thursday by a representative of the Bureau of Public Health Engineering . . . he will be accompanied by Mrs. Marcella Farley, the municipality's health officer, while inspecting Hillside, Ridgeview Circle and Princeton Pike, with one or more additional tours of other areas scheduled later this spring.

A new arena of tackling the housing shortage has come to the fore with creation of a Teacher Housing Committee in the Township . . . parents of pupils in the district are asked to assist in finding apartments at a modest price for both current and new teachers . . . committee members (Mrs. Gene Nowlin, Mrs. William Sloan, Mrs. Donald Snyder) may be called, as well as the Story Brook Administration Building.

Hopes are that the four wading pools operated each summer under supervision of the Playgrounds Committee can be kept open for an additional two weeks this summer, making 10 weeks in all . . . It would cost the Borough and Township governments an extra $200 apiece and would be well worth it to the scores of children who keep cool at the John, Pine, Erdman and Harrison Street wading centers.

The Pine Benevolent Association's 1959 campaign for funds is well short of its goal, Borough Chief Raymond Mondone reports . . . whereas about $3,500 is at hand, $10,300 is needed to underwrite the various projects planned by the PBA on behalf of the community's younger generation.

Winner of the automobile raffled off as part of the Princeton Country Day School Fair was Hallett Johnson Jr. of Pretty Brook Road . . . A classified ad this week seeks an object it would seem difficult to lose: an eight-foot beetle boat . . . one independent young Princetonian explained to his parents this week why he didn't want to go the camp in which they had enrolled him: "It interferes with my vacation."

Bermuda High,
Must you come our way?
We'd be happy
If you'd stay faraway!
—RAC MOE

Rac Moe's worries are premature; humidity caused by a high pressure system circulating this way from Bermuda rarely affects the Atlantic seaboard before mid-June. When it does soar upward, however, it's not something soon to be forgotten.

Before summer's heat arrives, spring has a number of pleasant days still in stock, the Sun reported. Nowhere near as cold as last Saturday, either (when a record May 16 low of 41 degrees was recorded—just four days after the 1959 high of 87 had steamed everybody's claims.) Temperature about normal of 62 throughout the weekend, and little or no precipitation in sight.

establishment of a John Foster Dulles Library of Diplomatic History at Princeton University. The library will contain Mr. Dulles' personal papers and copies of official documents of the Department of State relating to Mr. Dulles' tenure as secretary. It will be housed in a new wing of Princeton's Firestone Library, to be financed by a group of Mr. Dulles' close friends.

The personal papers of Mr. Dulles, valetudinarian of the Princeton Class of 1908, were described by Dr. Robert F. Goheen, university president, as "one of the most meaningful gifts the Princeton Library has ever received." The papers, some of which have already been received by the library, will be used as a research collection for the study of American diplomatic and political institutions.

In presenting his papers to the university, Mr. Dulles specified that access to them should be granted "as widely as possible" to those doing bona fide research in the fields of history, political science, international relations and related subjects. "The present shall be," Mr. Dulles said, "that access should be granted in any particular instance unless compelling reasons exist to withhold such access."

Scholars seeking access to Mr. Dulles' personal papers, once they are associated and organized in the new library wing, must receive through the Princeton Library the written approval of Mr. Dulles' representatives.

Picture of History. Agreement concerning the establishment of a collection of copies of official documents of the Department of State was announced simultaneously by the department and the university. The collection, which will consist of microfilmed copies of original documents in the Department of State, will present an accurate picture of the six eventful years in the field of foreign affairs during Mr. Dulles' service as secretary of state.

Title and control of these copies will remain with the Federal Government until such time as all classification and restrictions have been removed from the original documents. Until that time, many of the documents will not be available for research purposes. While this means that some of the papers cannot be consulted for several years, it was felt that the collection would have more significance if it were established now, while the events it covers were freshly in mind.

AUCTION ITEMS LISTED

Items to be auctioned at the Princeton Hospital Fete at Fitzpatrick Field June 6 include an ermine jacket, the captain's desk from a houseboat, a limited edition Audubon print and an officer's self-drink dispenser. Others items which will be sold to the highest bidder include several pieces of office furniture and equipment such as office fans, fluorescent lights and a large electric motor, an original oil painting, a large mirror, a George Jensen crystal tray, twelve Royal Crown Derby plates. —Continued on Page 9

RIGHT BACKED BY MIGHT: Peter Cook, hero of Community Players' melodrama, defends a woman's honor at the expense of Nobby Nibble, a pickpocket, played by Julian Wick.

News Of The THEATRES

"THE CHILD STEALER"

At The Playmill. "An instructive melodrama of high moral character" was played out on the Playmill boards last weekend and will be repeated again this Friday and Saturday as well as on May 30 at the Community Players' Alexander Street theater. The play, of course, is "The Child Stealer," a 19th century rip-shorter.

As everyone knows by now, these melodramas are given before an audience of playgoers seated around little tables and plied with free cold beer. Hises, boos, cheers and general comments are encouraged; in fact, the audience is so much a part of the production that if it sits on its hand, so to speak, the evening's proceedings can seem weightily indeed.

Unfortunately, at the opening performance on Friday night, the Players had an audience which did not rise to the occasion as well as it might have, even when the beer began to flow. The result was an evening that never seemed to get off the floor and bounce, as last year's Players' melodrama did right from the start.

(Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope)

Perhaps one problem is the play itself. It is not only verbose, it is more serious in theme than the usual dastardly-villain, inno-centherine melodrama and these two factors make light-hearted audience response a bit difficult.

The play does, however, have three splendid melo-dramatists who bite into it with relish: Emily Stuart, Irving Van Zandt and Lorin Zissman portray the child stealer, the gambler and the notorious thief with a tremendous zeal and energy that chews the scenery as it should be chewed.

The arched and villainous eyebrow, the anguished frown, the fiendish laugh, all come across in fine style. John Becker has a two-minute walk-on, wordless and hilarious.

For the intermission acts, the "Olio," this year's production offers songs by Ashby Adams, a soft-shoe dance, and songs by a female octet which refers to itself as "The Opposite Sextete." Dr. Adams, wearing a derby and an opulently checked suit, sings "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" and "Little Annie Rooney" in a fine tenor which makes his appearance one of the highlights of the evening.

"Strolling in the Park One Day" is a soft-shoe dance done by Peg Callaway, John, Johnny and Jamie Mueller, Peter Callaway and Peggy Bayer. It is a gently humorous number, quiet in style and costumed for spring with all-white dresses and suits and occasional pink in a parasol.

The eight ladies of the "Sextete" (so who counts?) are dressed primly as Gibson girls and although they sing "Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-De-Ay" they are more at home with "Sleep, Kentucky Babe."

This reviewer missed the exuberant gusto of last year's intermission can-can dancers and singing waiters, but others may find the low-key Olio offerings this year quite to their taste.

Peter Cook and Hugh Hardy have designed a garish mansion, a thieves' cellar, a bar and a dance hall which suggest poverty and riches and still leave the players enough space to move around in. Jean Dunn's costumes are demure or dastardly as the need requires — pink sash for heroine, black suit for villain, black lace garters to hold up the sleeves of waiters and piano players.

In the orchestra pit, Herbert Hubler at the piano (it will be Walter Johnson this weekend) and Charlie Stuart at the drums beat out a steady rhythm for dancers and singers. Trombones and trumpet follow along in close harmony — but the brasses could use a little more close rehearsal. Saturday night's audience stepped into its participating role from the opening curtain and the mood throughout the evening was one of content enjoyment. With the word spreading quickly, this weekend's performances are already solidly sold out.

Last chance: the added performance on Saturday, May 30. Tickets (and table reservations) $2 each at the University Store.

FALL PLANS ANNOUNCED

By Dana Productions. A full roster of five programs to be held next fall in McCarter Theatre was announced this week by Dana Productions. W. W. Lockwood, Jr., and T. B. Sternberg, producers of Dana Productions, are currently in the process of incorporation.

Highlights of the Fall program will be "Dear Liar," starring Katharine Cornell and Brian Aherne, and "Mark Twain Tonight," starring Hal Holbrook.
"Dear Liar," a dramatization based upon the correspondence of George Bernard Shaw and Mrs.
Patrick Campbell, is being presented under the banner of Impresario S. Hark. Mr. Holbrook's show, currently a hit on Broadway, has been awarded both the Venice Rice and the Outer Critical Circle Awards for the 1958-59 season.

Other programs scheduled by Dana Productions will include football weekend performances by The Weavers, folk song artist Pete Seeger, and a return engagement by flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya.

Final offering of Dana Productions for this season is "A Lovely Light," to be presented Friday, June 12, at McCarter Theatre. A portrait of Edna St. Vincent Mil-lay, the show stars Dorothy Slick-ney and is directed by Howard Lindsey. Tickets are available at the University Store and by mail from Dana Productions, Box 3, Princeton.

N. Y. CAST PLANS VISIT

Will Be Here Friday. Members of the New Broadway musical, "The Nervous Set," will present an informal program this Friday afternoon at 2:40 in Murray Theatre. The performance is being sponsored by Lampshade Productions and Theatre Intime.
"The Nervous Set," which opened last week, is described as a "very portrait of Greenwich Village beauties." In Friday's program, members of the cast will do skits from the show, talk about the "beat generation" and sing some of the show's hit songs.
Tickets, at $1 each, will be sold at the door.

THE PLAYHOUSE

"The Mating Game" (May 20-23) is an amusing, unpretentious little summer farce which isn't going to win any Academy Awards —even if anyone can remember it by next spring — but which provides a pleasant excuse for a night at the movies. Paul Douglas is a Maryland farmer who has reached a high level of matterial prosperity through the old-fashioned barter system. Since he rarely receives or spends money in these transactions he has never bothered to file income tax returns. This leads to a medium of innocently sexy fun, and the film winds up with Randall and Miss Reynolds decorously seeking happiness in the haystack.

The acting is sprightly and adequate, although your enjoyment of Miss Reynolds, the perennial teenager, will depend largely on whether or not you like perennial teenagers. Douglas is competent and Randall, who resembles a less lively Orson Bean, appears satisfactorily confused. Fred Clark is excellent as the nonsense Internal Revenue man sent to replace Randall. "Mating Game" is in CinemaScope and MetroColor.

Count Your Blessings (May 24-26) is another of Hollywood's cute, weightless attempts to appeal to the real or mythical "women's audience," and we suppose it will appeal to those who number themselves among this group. For us, however, the film is more than a bit too charming. Continued on Page 8

ANOTHER EXEMPTION, MAYBE? Debbie Reynolds introduces tax expert Tony Randall to one of the family pets in "The Mating Game," comedy opening at the Lawrence Drive-In through Saturday. The film tells the story of a zany family which stands the Internal Revenue Department on its head.

ALL THAT DRIPS, DRIES

At Rosette Pennington. We never knew a bathing suit yet that didn't drip dry, in time, but the ones a Rosette Pennington make a specialty of it.

Here at the Shopping Center store we found an Arnel drip dry suit, so formal you expect to find long white gloves with it. Comes in solid colors only (gold, aqua) and has a flaring skirt with widely spaced horizontal ribbing.

Another suit has a short sarong skirt (hoops up to one hip) and elasticized sides. It comes in a pineapple print of gold or green. A cotton bathing suit has a very short skirt with permanent knife pleats and a matching calf-length skirt in the same purple and pink print. You can wear this over your bathing suit when you go back to your hotel for lunch. Mind you keep sand out of the soup.

Shorts that really fit, in sizes up to 16, come in an unusual warm olive green, myrtle blue or lavender. They are $16. For $5, you may have drip-dry shorts with bro-stitched seam in sailor blue, green, tan, pale gold and for $1, shorts in black or khaki. Skirts for summer are straight, wrap-around or flare in linen and drip-dry cotton.

Blouses are tailored or feminine and sometimes both. Consider the sleeveless one with stripes in shades of gold, or the white one with pale green, blue, beige or grey satin stitch embroidery (including scallops) on both sides of its convertible collar ($4). Another white blouse has pink or blue criss-stitched flowers in panels down the front, starting at its high round collar.

The trim one appears again in a rosebud print dress ($5) with insertions of lace going up and down the bodice. One model is flared in front and another in back, with a deep, low neckline. Another model has satin piping around a square neck.

In quite a different vein is the dark cotton, straight as a pencil mark, with a flat bow in black satin at the neckline. The streamer of the bow is a flat piece of ribbon sewn all the way down to hemline. A white pique dickey fills in the scoop neck.

For $11, Rosette Pennington presents a black and loast cotton print dress which combines polka dots and squares in a pleasant and off-beat manner.

Watches and Glass. Blenko and Fenton glassware are as much in stock as the watchmaker's skill in the shop of the Village Watchmaker, Kingston.

The watchmaker, Mr. Sineak, has his workbench on a sunny porch which also serves as a display room for a varied collection of colorful Blenko glassware. The pieces have been arranged on window shelves so that they catch the sun and the eye of the passing motorist.

Blenko, as you know, is hand-blown glassware, some of it cracked by being dipped in cold water when it's still hot. It comes clear and plain, too, in a wonderful assortment of sizes, shapes, curves, spirals, straight lines and luminous colors.

For example, the Village Watchmaker has a glass dumb-bell in amber, a full-bodied turquoise pitcher, a 15-inch-high goblet in deep burnt orange with a clear glass stem which encases a crystal spiral. A long decanter, like a pulled piece of taffy, has a tear-drip stopper.

A tumbler, dimpled for your fingers, comes in ombre hues of gold and russet. There is a low

Oriental seductresses, slant-eyed and smelling of sandalwood, used to pose behind beaded curtains in the old silent movies. (At least, we suppose they smelled of sandalwood. It was a little hard to tell what odor some of the old movies had.)

Now you may add seduction to your own home by beaded curtains used as room dividers, cafe curtains or draperies. Home Decor in the Princeton Shopping Center has them, unbreakable plastic in ten solid colors or in four combinations of stripes. By "stripes," of course, we mean three or four strands of beads in one color, then two strands in another, and so on.

These stripes come in white orange, yellow, white, white orange, avocado; white, pink, turquoise; white, purple, pink. The beads are plastic, very much like pop-head necklaces in appearance. You buy them by the square foot ($3.25 per sq. ft.) and the price includes the rod.

bowl of clear glass, deep lime green and shaped like a horn. All these pieces are Blenko's suggested prices.

For people who prefer the traditional, the Watchmaker has Fenton glassware, most of it milk glass, plain or hobnail in style. Some of the pieces have ruby overlay against the white, others have a border of clear glass fluting against the opaque milk glass.

In the Fenton line, you'll find comotes, square candy dishes on pedestals, unique candelsticks shaped like cornucopias, a very popular chip-'n-dip plate, pitchers in all sizes and shapes and some handsome goblets.

There is a coin-dot pattern which you'll like if you want to bring something different into your milk glass collection. It consists of clear crystal circles embedded in the white milk glass.

The Watchmaker has also acquired a collection of polished stones which he uses for jewelry. These are not gem stones — just attractive pieces of rock, perhaps with unusual striations or colors. Poke around in the collection, choose the pieces you like and ask the Watchmaker to set them into earrings, a pendant or a tie clasp.

ingly sentimental. "Count Your Blessings" is in attractive Metro-Color and CinemaScope, with stock scenes of London, Paris and their environs amiably presented. The stars are Deborah Kerr, Rossano Brazzi and Maurice Chevalier.

Niss Kerr unsurprisingly takes the part of a reserved, cool Englishwoman who is really, you see, quite passionate under that unresponsive exterior. When a man, meets her to bring news of her reserved, cool English fiancé, she is really, quite passionate under that unresponsive exterior. When a man, meets her to bring news of her reserved, cool English fiancé, she is really, quite passionate under that unresponsive exterior.

It won't be giving away too large a secret to reveal that all this results in a happy ending for the characters if not for the audience. The film does, however, have a couple of points in its favor: the photography is pretty, and it's suitable for children of all ages.

Warlock (May 27-30) has nothing to do with male witches; it is the name of a Western town which the site of the picture. Starring Richard Widmark, Henry Fonda, Anthony Quinn, Dorothy Malone and Deborah Nicola and produced in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, this is undoubtedly one of the biggest, most expensive Western films ever produced. It is a fast-paced, capably acted run-through of a cliché-ridden script that sounds as if it were commissioned after all the other expenses were met.

The Guys, led by Tom Drake, terrorize the town. After a few reels of this, the Warlocks hire a professional gunman, Fonda, to rid the town of the Bad Guys. But one of the Bad Guys, Widmark, turns out to be a Good Guy in disguise. He quits the gang and takes up the cause of Law and Order against both Fonda and the Bad Guys. Through it all, the film's women, notably Miss Malone, switch their allegiance among the antagonists with Nasserian regularity.

THE GARDEN
The Two-Headed Spy (May 21-23), starring Jack Hawkins and Gin Sola, is an engrossing and well-paced British import in which the two principals portray Allied agents engaged in espionage beyond the German lines in World War II. Hawkins is a Nazi general who keeps up a veneer of loyalty to the Führer while spilling out information to his English compatriots. The luscious Miss Sola, Hawkins' mistress, serves the cause of democracy by singing songs with coded lyrics over the Axis radio.

The Two-Headed Spy, a Columbia release, was directed by Andre De Toth from a screenplay by James O'Donnell. One of the film's most ironical scenes occurs when Hawkins convinces Hitler that a group of the Führer's top military advisors, loyal Nazis all, are in really dangerous subversive who must be liquidated. While it is no "Bridge on the River Kwai," this film is a substantial vehicle for Hawkins' varied and genuine talent.

Seven Brides for Seven Brothers (May 21-23) is an amusing Technicolor romp starring Jane Powell, Howard Keel and Russ Tamblyn, all of whom perform tunefully and enthusiastically. The film is being presented in conjunction with the Garden's spring policy of reviving successful pictures from past years on Mondays.

Aparajito (May 26-30) is the second segment of the projected film trilogy that began with the excellent "Father Pancho." The cast is essentially the same as that of "Father," and Director Satyajit Ray has again elicited a moving and impressive portrait of the lives and aspirations of modern Indians. The picture was produced in India with an entirely Indian cast. The three-life technique leads to some slow stretches from time to time, but its offsetting advantages make it well worth waiting through these.

This is not escape fare; it is simply one of the best movies of the generation. Recommended.

It's New To Us

that tired old kitchen window. It's a quarter circle of ruffled fabric that makes a fan-shaped curtain for the top half of your window. Makes the window look as though it had a working eye. Comes in sheer with fluffed dots.

A cousin to the sunburst curtain is the balloon skirt, which is the harem skirt you've seen in dresses. You may have the balloon effect in valance or bottom skirt.

More formal windows may now have white decon outside Austrian blinds that roll up like a window shade. They are sized for single or double window windows. Windows that take to draperies will take to some drip-dry machine washable curtains designed for almost any room. Some are traditional floral prints in rose, yellow or blue. Others are "needlepoint" in dark green or brown or natural; others are honest plaids (but not Scotch tartan) in greens or browns. Home Decor also has burlap drapes now in orange, black, green or gold.

This year's bamboo cafe curtains are tweedy in appearance. Tan, red, green in a kind of quarter-point that makes them look like tweed.

LICENSE REVOKED

For Three Charges, James M. Mack, 28, 274 Witherspoon Street, had his driver's license suspended for 30 days on Monday by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, following a plea of guilty to three motor vehicle violations.

Mr. Mack was charged with careless driving, failure to observe a "stop" sign and having no license in his possession. He was also fined $50.

Giuseppe Guadino, 21, 90 Birch Avenue, was fined $27 on two charges. He pleaded guilty to passing a "stop" sign and having too loud a muffler. The latter offense also drew a $15 fine for Lawrence Perks, 20, of 353 Cherry Hill Road.

THREE LOSE LICENSES

For Excessive Speed, Three more residents of this area have lost their driving privileges under the State's "10-70" Revocation Program.

They are Robert Blake, 33, Nassau Inn; Donald Martino, 28, 214 Halsey Street; and Anthony Morelli, 27, 1 Savage Road, Franklin Park. Each driver has had his license suspended for 30 days.

Major Honor For Two

Election to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, one of the nation's oldest and most distinguished honorary societies, came this week to two Princetonians. They are Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of the University for 24 years until his retirement in 1957, and P. Jefferson Conkwright, typographer of the Princeton University Press and lecturer in graphic arts at the University.

Dr. Dodds is one of 13 new members honored under the heading of "Administration and Affairs." He is currently carrying forward a two-year study of the office of the American college president with support from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Mr. Conkwright, one of the nation's outstanding book designers, was honored in "Fine Arts and Literature" with 11 other well-known Americans, including artist Ben Shahn of nearby Roosevelt. Responsible for the design of "The Papers of Thomas Jefferson," a 52-volume project, and numerous other achievements in his field, Mr. Conkwright has been at the University Press since 1937.

ship-Pennington Borough district was announced last week.

Mr. Walton has served in the West Windsor district since 1953, discharging duties in both the Dutch Neck and Penn Neck Schools as assistant to Mr. Sandilios. The greater part of his time has been spent in Dutch Neck as both teaching and later non-teaching principal.

An Army veteran of World War II, during which he was three times decorated for service with the 42d "Rainbow" Division, Mr. Walton is a cum laude graduate of La Salle College. He also holds a master's degree in elementary education and administration from Temple University.

The new superintendent has attended board of education meetings in his capacity as assistant to Mr. Sandilios, and the board feels certain "that the transition in administration can be achieved with minimum difficulty" in view of his existing knowledge of its affairs. Mr. and Mrs. Walton live in Groves Mill with their daughter, Claire Ellen, and are expecting a second child in November.

RECKLESS DRIVER FINED

In Township Court, Gilbert E. Ireland, 38, Crescent Avenue, Rocky Hill, was fined $30 in Township Court Tuesday night for reckless driving.

Magistrate Louis R. Gerber also imposed $25 fines and 30-day suspended jail sentences on Mrs. Cornelia Gillette, 27 Birch Avenue, and Herman L. Broadway, 12 Birch Avenue. They were convicted of disorderly conduct.

TEACHER DINNER SET

By Valley Road Parents, All Valley Road School teachers will be guests of honor as a supper sponsored by the school's parents' committee at 8 on Tuesday at the school. Mrs. Gerald Speedy is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Speedy's committee includes Mrs. David Thompson, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Henry Frank, Mrs. Paul Benson, Mrs. Meyer Goldstein, Mrs. William Van Riper and Mrs. Leslie Vivian. Exhibits will be set up by the art department, headed by Mrs. Pat Neumann, the manual training department and the library.

The PTA will hold a brief meeting at 7:45 to elect officers for the coming year. During the meeting the charter and troop flag for Boy Scout Troop 77 will be presented. Members of the troop, which is sponsored by the PTA, will attend in uniform with their scoutmaster, Joseph Wood.

MRS. CLUETT ELECTED

WITHER TAXATION? Without specifying which it should be, the Republican State Committee decided last week, that New Jersey needs either an income tax or a sales tax to avoid a budget deficit. Princetonians Nicky Prosciano (left) and Paul Sweeney strongly prefer the income tax if new revenue must be found, or other views, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: If New Jersey must produce a new form of revenue, as now seems indicated, would you prefer a sales tax or an income tax?

Where asked: Around town.

Harold J. Schuster, 4 Hawthorne Avenue, salesmanager: I'd rather have a sales tax. I think the sales tax spread the overall cost of government much more readily than does an income tax. The distribution of revenue is far more equal under a sales tax than from income tax.

Paul J. Strayer, 114 Prospect Avenue, Princeton Professor of Economics: I prefer an income tax. I think it's a fairer, more equitable tax. We may end up in New Jersey by getting both, but I would much prefer to see a tax on income, which exempts the very low wage earner.

Nicky Prosciano, 299 Witherspoon Street, janitor: I'd say an income tax. It's better to have them take the money out of your income, first, than for me to keep jacking up prices. Prices are sky high already.

Mrs. Patricia C. Gray, 348 Walnut Lane, free-lance writer: We're rather loaded with federal payroll deductions as it is, so I'd prefer a sales tax. One of the reasons that my husband and I don't live in New York is the state income tax. With a sales tax, it depends on the items that you buy whether you pay much tax. A person therefore has a choice with the sales tax. I certainly feel that the sales tax is the lesser of two evils.

Mrs. Norma Hay, 169 Snowden Lane, housewife: I prefer a sales tax. A sales tax puts people on a sort of spend-it-when-you-need-it basis.

Paul Sweeney, 15 Bank Street, bartender at Ivy Inn: An income tax is better. The cost of living is too high already; everything is so dear. The dollar isn't worth a dollar today, as it is. If they raise prices with a sales tax, it'll be worth even less.

Mrs. Bernice Frank, 273 Jefferson Road, housewife: I think the most equitable would be an income tax. Levied proportionately, it would meet the needs of the State best, and would tax more heavily those people who can most afford to be taxed. Sales taxes reach lower income groups and a higher proportion of their income would go for taxes than that of higher wage earners. This seems unfair.

Mrs. Nancy Ashton, Cold Soil Road, housewife: I favor a sales

Tax Choice

The state Republican party, in its platform meeting last week, decided that New Jersey must forsake its reputation as a low-tax state in order to head off an impending deficit in state finances. New Jersey, which has one of the lowest per capita tax rates in the nation, has never had a state income tax and hasn't used a sales tax since the 1930's.

Both parties have stood firm against the introduction of either of these taxes, and the overwhelming majority of state funds have continued to come from property taxes. Now, foreseeing a "confiscatory rise" in property taxes, the G.O.P. has dropped its 22-year-old anti-tax plank and voted to study the possibility of new tax sources. The Democrats decided to retain their anti-tax plank at a simultaneous meeting.

If new taxes come, should they be in the form of income or sales assessments, Economists say the burden of income taxes, which are graduated, fall most heavily on the already well-taxed higher income groups. Sales taxes hit the overall cost of living, affecting most those who have little to spend, and create a nuisance for everyone by necessitating odd-change purchases. The views of Princetonians on the desirability of one tax over the other are presented on this page.

tax. I have enough trouble with the federal income tax people as it is. A sales tax would be sufficient to meet the needs of the state.

Robert Wren, 106 Nassau Street, English teacher at Douglass College: An income tax, primarily because a sales tax is unfair since it hits hardest the incomes that are smallest. However, I would like to express the strong feeling that New Jersey should initiate some kind of tax in the near future. By refusing to give proper consideration to taxation, the citizens and the legislature are neglecting a very great area of the State's responsibility.

Mrs. Cynthia Armour, 94 Allison Road, housewife: An income tax because it's easier to pay all at one time. An income tax is paid by everyone, with or without a sales tax, some people pay more than others.

Clarence Updike, Province Line Road, retired farmer: A sales tax. That would hit everyone. The federal government is getting enough income tax out of us now; we don't need any more taxation on incomes.

A WALK OF LILACS: Along this 300-foot alley are some 30 varieties of lilacs, in full, fragrant and colorful bloom this time each spring. In the foreground are white specimens and in the background, the darker, royal purple ones. Customers of French Flower Market have probably taken home a spray of lilacs from this walk because Mrs. Leditia Laughlin, whose garden this is, contributes lilac branches to the Market every year. For more information on the lilac collection, see story below. (Staff Photo)

Topics Of The Town

LILACS AS A HOBBY

For Seed and Color. Gardening is a hobby enjoyed by many Princeton residents and those who enjoy it frequently become specialists in one particular plant. One of these specialists is Mrs. Leditia I. Laughlin whose lilacs give a spectacular display of scent and color this time each spring. Mrs. Laughlin has been collecting lilacs for her garden on Hedley Corner Road since 1937. In the 22 years since she bought her first, she has acquired over 30 different varieties. Most of them planted in two parallel rows to make an alley, almost 300 feet long. It is one of the best-laid collections in this area and is an unusually extensive one for an amateur gardener.

Starting with President Lincoln, the bluest and earliest of the French hybrid lilacs, Mrs. Laughlin has continuous bloom along her lilac walk from about May 7 until early June.

"One of my favorites actually blooms twice a year," Mrs. Laughlin says. "It's the microphylla, with pale pink blossoms and it comes out in spring and fall, although not quite so fully in September or October as it does in May."

This lilac is not part of the walk. Mrs. Laughlin has planted it near a terrace close to the house.

Along the walk are the deep royal purple of Ludwig Späth and the slightly lighter purple of Madame F. Morel. Lucie Hollet, mildest of the French hybrids, is in the collection, too, and so is President Grey, a cobalt blue lilac in bloom now, just past mid-May.

The walk was planted, of course, to show a succession of bloom throughout the season and there is continuous shifting gradation of color and shade as each variety blooms and dies.

Reflex, the so-called "Nodding Lilac," is one of the latest. Madame Antoine Buchner, a pale lilac rose, is perhaps one of the most interesting because of its shade.

Vestale, a single white lilac with bright yellow center lilacs come in double or single flowered varieties makes a vivid foil for the deep royal purples or the pale violet shades. Edith Cavell, a double white lilac, is one of the newest additions to the Laughlin collection. Most of Mrs. Laughlin's recent purchases have been white ones.

Mrs. Laughlin has made a thorough study of the cultural requirements of her lilacs, experimenting with various mulching, fertilizing, pruning and spraying techniques until she has found the correct ones that insure full, deep, healthy panicles each year.

"Why do I collect lilacs? Well, I don't really know why," she says. "Except that they are so beautiful and so fragrant. When they're in bloom, that delicate scent comes right in the open windows of the house. It's one of the most rewarding plants you can grow."

SHELTON MOTORS TO MOVE

To Route 286. Announcement is expected to be made shortly of a projected move to State Road 286 by Shelton Motors. The Chrysler-DeSoto-Plymouth firm has been located at 300 Witherspoon Street since it was established over a decade ago.

The new site is in Princeton Township, on the right hand side of the State Highway, some 800 to 1,000 feet beyond the Mary Watts store. Identity of the owner selling the land to the automobile firm has not been disclosed.

Expansion of Shelton Motors' sales and service facilities will be made possible by the move. Fire last winter destroyed much of the building at 300 Witherspoon Street, in which service operations had been carried on, and all activity has been headquartered at 300 Witherspoon since that time.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Of Princeton Business Assn. Plans for a membership drive to begin Monday were announced this week by Lorr L. Quickle, president of the Princeton Business Association. The drive, which will be headed by John H. Houghton, will seek 150 new members. A mail solicitation will go to all businessmen who are not now members of the PBA and there will also be clerk coverage of many business houses.

Particular emphasis will be laid on obtaining members from industrial and professional research organizations, Mr. Quickle said. He pointed out that the PBA is the only group actively fostering the best interest of the Princeton community, serving as a combination chamber of commerce, board of trade and community betterment group. The membership fee is only 125 a year, he added.

Acquisition of new members, Mr. Quickle said, will enable the PBA to expand and improve its program of services to the community. In line with this program, the PBA has named Theodore S. Reed as chairman of the Credit Risk File. Mr. Reed will bring the file up to date so that fresh credit information on Princeton residents will be instantly available to members of the PBA.

tee were also announced. The PBA will appeal to the Mayor and Borough Council on the matter.

To Issue Brochure. R. L. Lenhart, vice president in charge of public relations for the PBA, has also been named executive secretary of the organization. Lenhart & Company has been chosen to undertake the creation and production of a multiple-page brochure describing the Princeton community, its advantages and its history.

The brochure will be used for mailing in response to out-of-town inquiries, to interested employer groups and for distribution to outlying areas from which shoppers may be attracted. Included will be a large-scale decorative map and photographs of various sections of Princeton. Advertising

PBA Moves Office

The office of the Princeton Business Association has been moved to 14 Witherspoon Street. The office will be open Monday to Friday from 9 to 5 to provide information to members and the public. Miss Claire Delle Monache will be office manager.

The new office will have a new telephone number, WALnut 1-7616. The PBA has asked that all calls be directed to this number and that the number in the telephone book be disregarded.

space will be sold to cover production costs. About 10,000 copies are to be printed.

NEGOTIATIONS OFF. ASCOP Drops Merger. The Applied Science Corporation of Princeton has cancelled plans for a possible merger with the Gianti Controls Corporation of Pasadena, Cal. It has been announced by John H. Wallace, Jr., ASCOP president.

A joint announcement that talks were being held leading to a merger was made last week by Mr. Wallace and Donald H. Putnam, president of Gianti. Mr. Wallace this week declined to give any reason as to why the plans were cancelled.

Gianti is now an electronics firm. Mr. Putnam, its president, is a member of the Princeton Class of 1946.

MUSIC In Princeton

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY

At Princeton High School. A concert, open to the public, will be given Sunday at 4 in the Princeton High School auditorium. Participants under the direction of Louis K. Richards will be the high school bands—concert and symphonic and the orchestra.

To commemorate the bicentennial of Handel's death, the Concert Band will play "Care Selva" and the orchestra two movements from "Water Music." The latter composition, so named because it was first played by an orchestra floating on barges down the Thames River, is one of Handel's best known.

The orchestra will also be heard in "Bakery March, Riddle Lament" by J. H. Fouls and the "South American Overture," arranged by Harold Parr. The violins will play a solo part of "Perpetual Motion" from memory, while Susanne Rowles will be heard in a harp solo, "Impromptu Caprice."

Additional selections by the Concert Band will include "See Portrait," "Prayer and Dream Pantheism" and "First Suite in E Flat" of a march by S. Holst. The Symphonic Band will play

"Variations for String Quartet," by Samuel Galt, will open the program. Written in 1956, the work won a DMI Student Composers' Award in 1957. It will be played by the Queen's College Faculty Quartet. Edward Levy's "Sonata for Oboe and Piano" will then be performed by Joseph Marx, oboist, and Lalan Parrott, pianist.

Robert Morgan's "Landscapes," a song cycle for soprano and five instruments, will close the first half of the program. The cycle will be sung by Miss Janice Harsanyi, with the composer conducting. After a brief intermission, the program will conclude with a "String Quartet" by David Sprung, also performed by the Queen's College Faculty Quartet.

PEOPLE In the News

FOUR TO RETIRE

From Department of Geology. The retirement of four members of the Department of Geology of Princeton University was announced this week. All four will end their careers on the faculty at the end of the current academic year, an unusual number at the same time from one department.

Alphabetically listed, they are: Dr. Arthur Francis Buddington, Dr. Benjamin Franklin Howell, Dr. Paul MacClintock and Dr. Edward Sampson. Together they have engaged in teaching and research at Princeton for a total of 134 years.

Dr. Buddington, a member of the Princeton faculty since 1922, was head of the Department of Geology from 1938 to 1950. A specialist in petrology and chemical geology, he relinquished the chairmanship in order to devote more time to research while continuing his teaching. His more recent research has been concerned with the role of mineralogy in the interpretation of magnetic anomalies and of paleomagnetic data.

A former president of the Mineralogical Society of America and a member of many scientific and educational societies, Dr. Buddington has written extensively for technical publications. He is a graduate of Brown University, received his Ph.D. degree from Princeton in 1916 and an honorary LL.D. degree from Franklin and Marshall College in 1958.

Howell Here Since 1915. Dr. Howell, professor of geology and paleontology, joined the faculty in 1915 and since 1924 has been curator of invertebrate paleontology and stratigraphy. Eybye, prior to his retirement two years ago, was regional director in charge of Ford's activities in Latin America, the Orient and other parts of the world.

Gilbert R. Rowan, Rosedale Road, has been awarded a Harvard College scholarship. Mr.

Rowan, who will enter Harvard next Fall, is attending Lawrenceville School. The scholarship was awarded on the basis of high academic and personal promise.

Dr. Carroll C. Pratt, 114 Broadmead, Professor of Psychology at Princeton University, spoke at Stanford University last week before the California division of the American Society for Aesthetics. One of the co-founders of the society, and a former president, Dr. Pratt is visiting professor during the present semester at the University of California in Berkeley. In his address, he dealt with recent efforts made to formulate an adequate psychological answer to the degree in which emotion and mood are present in the perception of works of art.

SPORTS In Princeton

SEASON NEARS ITS END
Spring Schedules About Over. The approach of term-end examinations means the end of spring sports activity this Saturday for most Princeton teams. Exceptions are in baseball and crew, although there is nothing on the water until the national regatta is staged at Syracuse on June 26. The most important event this weekend is set for Ithaca, where Princeton hopes to win its third straight Ivy title in lacrosse. Cornell has matched the Tigers with a 4-0 record, both teams having defeated Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Yale. Brown and Columbia do not field teams in this sport.

Palmer Stadium will be the scene of track action involving five teams. A triangular meet will be staged among Army, Penn and Princeton at 2 o'clock while the Quaker and Tiger freshmen will compete between varsity events. Whereas the Orange and Black varsity will do well to finish second, the Tiger quets are favored to win a end of their season with a perfect 8-0 mark.

A pair of baseball games is set for University Field. The strong University of Delaware will be here Friday at 4, intent on adding Princeton to its lengthening list of victims as a stepping stone to an NCAA berth. Pennsylvania is due Saturday at 2:30 in an Ivy League contest. The Quakers will also provide the opposition in golf, facing Princeton on the Springdale course at 1:30, while Cornell ends the tennis team's season on the Church Courts at 2:30.

CREWS LOSE
As Harvard takes Yale, a picture-book finish that capped a long, often-dramatic day of racing won the Eastern Sprint Championship for Harvard's fine crew Saturday afternoon on Lake Carnegie. A crowd estimated at upwards of 10,000 packed the spacious, sloping banks and enjoyed the bright, cool setting provided by the cooperative weather.

Princeton's varsity was eliminated in the morning heat, losing in surprising fashion to Massachusetts Tech. The Tigers had beaten the M.I.T. shell by four lengths over a mile and three-quarter course earlier this month but not as good on Saturday.

Five Win Letters

Six residents of the Princeton area have been awarded letters or numerals for their ability in hockey during the past season and a sixth won a managerial award.

Varsity insignia have gone to Peter B. Cook of Kingston (for the second time) and Lance R. Olden, 30 Armour Road. David H. Peterson, Glenmoore Farm, Hopewell, won a junior varsity letter, while freshman numerals were won by William R. Kales, 3d, 8 Marvin Place, and John T. Woodward, 15 Hodge Road. All five learned their early hockey at Princeton Country Day School.

Kenneth C. Scasserra won a junior varsity managerial letter. He is a resident of the Princeton-Kingston Road.

Tech's margin was about a quarter of a length.

Harvard won its morning heat with M.I.T. and Princeton, returning to the water in the afternoon to stage a fine performance that just nipped Syracuse at the finish. The Orange had a slight lead going into the final 200 yards, Harvard drawing even and then gaining a lead of about four feet at the final flag. The Crimson, winning for the first time in ten years, was timed in 6:03.1 for the 2,000 meters, with Syracuse just three-fifths of a second slower. Yale, the defending champion, was third, with Penn fourth.

Other victors were Pennsylvania's junior varsity, an all-sophomore outfit which will make its presence felt at the varsity level during the next two years, and Cornell's freshmen. Harvard won the Rowe Cup, awarded on points for best-all-around showing.

Princeton's freshmen and junior varsity both won their consolation heats after having placed second in the morning races. The Tigers' Class of '62 shell came from fourth to first in the final 1,000 meters to nip Yale by a deck length.

Jayve's Win at Cambridge, Victory in the junior varsity race by Princeton kept Harvard from repeating its sweep of the river in the 1961s, championships on the Charles River. The Tiger seconds edged Cornell by a deck length, with four other lightweight crews trailing.

Harvard led runner-up Dartmouth by a length and a half in the varsity event, keeping the Wright Cup, with Princeton third. The Tiger freshmen were second to the Crimson in their race.

CLOSE CALL IN LACROSSE
Dartmouth, Barely Beaten, 6-5. The comparative scores indicated a relatively easy Princeton victory but Dartmouth's big, rugged lacrosse team had other thoughts and nearly translated them into actuality. The Indians held a 2-1 lead after 15 minutes and erased a two-goal deficit in the final round to draw even at 5-4. With the clock running out and the possibility of overtime looming, Captain Johnny Heyd took charge, circling in from the left of the visitors' cage, he fired a hard, high shot from 25 feet out that found the mark and made it a 6-5 final.

Princeton controlled the ball for long periods of time, but its attack was not functioning in sharp fashion. Dartmouth often intercepting passes launched from behind the Indian goal. The losers' tendency to commit errors which cost them possession was a basic factor in determining the outcome.

Earlier in the week, Rutgers took home a mud-spattered 9-6 triumph that was achieved on University Field in a steady downpour. A five-goal second period —Continued on Page 24 told the story, the Scarlet defeating Princeton for the second time in as many years.

BALL TEAM BEATEN

At Hanover, Princeton's record in the Eastern Baseball League dropped back to 3-3 Saturday as the Tiger nine ran into trouble at Hanover. Dartmouth triumphed, 5-3, largely on the strength of a four-run third inning.

Herm Belz allowed only three hits, but one with a triple with two aboard. They all came in the third inning and were combined with a pair of leadoff walks, resulting in more of a deficit than the Tigers could overcome.

Carl Belz tripped in the second round, scoring on an infield out, and then homered with Nix's lightning on first and two away in the ninth. The Tigers reverted to defensive lapses, committing four errors, with two of the victors' five runs listed as unearned. Art Quirk was tied wearing pitcher, working up his fifth straight league action. Last year, blanked the Tigers on Union Field, 5-0.

CURR RESULTS

Track. — Jim Finishes Last. Inability to win a single event in the Heptagonal Track Meet at New Haven contributed to Princeton's last-place finish Saturday. Yale was the 25th anniversary meet with 64 points; eight other teams trailed the Elis, but finished ahead of the Tigers, whose total was a mere 6 1/2. Sophomore Dick Edmunds was beaten for the first time this season, as he finished second in the 100, which was won in 48 seconds — slower than Edmunds has run several times this spring. A tie for third in the high jump and a fifth in the broad jump were Princeton's only other point-scoring performances.

Golfers Win. It required only an average round of 78 for four Princetonians to win the Metropolitan Intercollegiate title. Twenty-one teams from the New York area took part in the one-day tournament last Wednesday on Long Island.

The Tigers compiled a four-man total of 318, five strokes under runner-up Ithaca. On Saturday, they defeated Nixy, 6-1, on Spruigdale.

THIRD SHOT BY LUCKY — Phil Pickler Blanked Steinert, Jack Lackey raised Princeton High School's baseball record to 6-3 last Friday with a 3-0 victory over Stony Brook. It was the Little Tiger southpaw's third whitewash job and fourth victory of the season.

Lackey limited 11 visiting batters and limited them to a pair of hits. His mates collected only three safeties but a bases-loaded blow in the second by Boyd Bergen was good for two runs. An insurance marker was added in the third when shortstop Jack Hawkins crossed the plate.

Homers Help Trenton High. A pair of home runs helped Trenton High School top the Blue and White on the TBS diamond Monday. It was a close 4-3 contest, the Little Tigers pushing one run across in the top of the seventh only to see the rally die with the tying home third.

Print on High took a 2-0 lead before a man was rebuffed as Boyd Bergen and Ray Cranston, who had walked, rode home on Rick Hartford's triple. A solo homer off Jack Hawkins, on the mound

PAC Lists Practices

Four practice sessions have been scheduled by the Princeton Athletic Club baseball team, which will begin its season Tuesday, June 9.

The drills will be held at 6:15 p.m. on the Princeton High School diamond and are open to all players of high school age or over. William Chauncey is the team manager.

Montgomery, South Brantwick and Sonny Pine are the other members of the Tri-County League. Twilight games are played twice a week, with home contests on Brookview Field.

for PHS, got one of these back in the bottom of the first and a two-run second made it 3-2 for the Tornados. A circuit blow by Trenton's Bob Hall that traveled more than 400 feet gave the home team a 4-2 margin before the Little Tigers came close to deadlocking the contest in the seventh. Olson and King walked, moving up on a sacrifice. An infield out pushed one run over but the rally died on another ground out to second.

Three straight road games confront the Blue and White before it ends its season here against Somerville on May 29. Return contests are scheduled against Hamilton High this Friday, Hunterdon Regional on Monday and Simeret next Wednesday. The record shows a 5-3 triumph over Hamilton in the first game between the teams, and a 7-3 loss in Hunterdon. (For results of Tuesday's game against Trenton Catholic, which the Little Tigers blanked earlier this month as one of Lackey's absolute victims, see page 28.)

WYN JENNINGS

Little Tiger Sprint Star

A "real natural" runner, 18-year old Wyn Jennings has accounted for 4 Princeton High School points to lead the Little Tiger track team this season in scoring. This is nothing new for the senior sprinter, who was high scorer for the PHS squad in his first season of competition last year. Jennings, who runs the 100-yard dash and 220, has finished first or second in each of the PHS meets so far this year.

"A great meet runner," said Coach Win Niles of his charge. "Even in the toughest meets, he'll always be in there trying his best and never give up. He's the most conscientious boy on the squad, and I can always rely on him not to slacken off." Jennings, who transferred here from Lawrence Junior High two years ago, is small for a sprinter at 5-8, 150 pounds, but as Coach Niles puts it, "Those legs really fly." The running captain of the Little Tiger squad, Jennings is most often described by Niles as "consistent." A star from the beginning with the Little Tigers, Jennings last year accounted for a total of 58 points in dual meets.

The sprinter's top time in the 100 this year was a 10.3, and in his best race in the 220, he was clocked at 23 seconds flat. While these times are far from the record breaking point of view, the main thing is that Jennings has given this year's Princeton High team a factor it badly needs. The basic strength of the Little Tiger squad is centered in the weight events, and Jennings helps offset this lack of balance as a consistent winner in the sprints.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jennings, Fackler Road, in living up to his name, Wyn has won for the Little Tigers when they have most needed it this season. The small, but solid, runner may not be able to develop into one of the fastest men alive, but he is sure to be remembered for his consistent victories against competition. Coming out of nowhere, Jennings was a star from the start with Princeton High a year ago. Perhaps the most impressive feature about him on the cinders, in his first season, was not that he won both the century and the 220 in five of six meets, but rather that he kept going in the face of team disappointments.

The diminutive sparkplug has another quality besides running ability that marks him for a sure success in the armed services, in which he plans to enlist after graduation. He is well liked by everybody. Coach Niles noted, "He is one of the most popular fellows that I have even known, and he gets along with almost everybody. You like him almost as soon as you've known him." As one of Princeton High's few sprint standouts in recent years, and an important factor on this year's team as a steady force in the running department, his routine training should not bother Wyn, who has also won nothing but praise for his consistent training and for his spirit of "never say die."

Paul's baseball team to a 9-1 victory over St. Mary's at Bordentown on Saturday. Corvino fanned eight batters and gave up four walks for his second straight win of the new season. The Cavalier attack was led by Freddy Singer, who went three-for-four, collecting a single, a double and a home run, and Tom Stemmle, who hammered out three singles in as many times at bat. Singer's homer in the first inning began the St. Paul's scoring barrage. The frame's second run was added by Corvino, who walked, stole second and tallied on a rolling single by John Thomas.

Singer and Corvino each scored in the third inning, and the game was put on ice by St. Paul's five-run explosion in the fourth. St. Mary's lone run was permitted by an infield error with two men on in the second stanza. The triumph was the second in three outings for Coach Marty Lombardo's Cavaliers.

ISRAELI TALK PLANNED

For Final With Meeting. A talk on "Some Aspects of Israeli Life" will be given this Thursday at a meeting of the B'nai B'rith Women of Princeton by Daniel Spiering, an Israeli currently studying at the Princeton Graduate School. The meeting, scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Princeton Jewish Center, is being held in observance of the 11th anniversary of the State of Israel.

Mrs. Maurice Glicksman will report on the vocational guide-program and Mrs. Jerome Shatzkin will report on Little Projects.
A report on the current membership drive will be given by Mrs.

COORDINATED LIGHTS SET

For Route 1. A coordinated system of traffic lights will be installed on Route 1 from the Trenton traffic circle to the Green Street circle in Woodbridge. It was announced this week by the New Jersey State Highway Department. This system will permit a car to travel at a constant 50 miles per hour throughout the entire 36-mile section without encountering a single red light.

Under this coordinated system, nuclei on intersecting side roads will activate the traffic signal by running over a detector in the road. The light will not turn green for them, however, until the interval arrives which coordinates with the Route 1 sluggish system. If there is no motorist on a side road, the lights on Route 1 will remain green constantly.

A total of 30 traffic signal installations will be included in the project, which is scheduled to be completed by October 1. They will be located at 28 "jug-handle" turn areas. Also planned are fluorescent lights for these intersections and incandescent lights at other locations along Route 1.
Areas in which the construction will be undertaken are Lawrence, West Windsor, Plainsboro South and North Brunswick, Edison and Woodbridge Township.

The electrical project, a segment of the overall Route 1 rehabilitation program, comes under the Federal Government's program of aid to primary and urban highways. Costs are shared by State and Federal governments on a 50-50 basis.

Plans for the rehabilitated Route 1 call for a four-lane highway with concrete center barriers and hard-surfaced shoulders 10-feet wide. More than 50 "jughandle" turns will be constructed to permit left-hand and u-turns outside the main traffic systems.

Many of these have already been completed.

Complete interchanges will be provided at heavily traveled intersecting highways. Crowded Route 18 will be carried over Route 1 by an overpass with ramps, and another complete clover-leaf interchange is planned at Milltown Road.

nington is chairman of the Shrine

MILITARY EXAMS SET

For This July. Examinations for all candidates for entrance in 1960 to the U.S. military service academies will be held this July.
It was announced this week by Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr.
The examinations are scheduled for Monday, July 13. Exact time and place will be announced later.
Senator Williams said that he has received about 250 requests from New Jersey students who want to enroll at West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, or the new Air Force Academy. Application forms have already been mailed to all these students.

Many candidates wrote to the Senator in December, he said, asking about possible entrance this Fall. This year's quota, however, had been filled by earlier appointments of Senator Williams' predecessor, he said.

TIGERS TRIMMED
By Title-Bound Navy. The 1959 Eastern League race came to a virtual Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the hard-hitting baseball team defeated Princeton, 9 to 1, at Annapolis. The midshipmen lost the title by defeating Army in their traditional game on May 30, and only Dartmouth has a chance to tie for first place.

Lethander Dave Douglas started for the Tigers, giving way to him to get the third out. The two Tiger hurlers were pounded for 13 hits good for a total of 22 bases, including a pair of home runs by outfielder Dick Brown.

The Orange and Black came up with its lone tally in the fourth, which was a sacrifice fly. The brief rally was then eclipsed by a triple play, an extreme rarity in the three-decade old circuit.

REVENGE GAINED

By Trenton Catholic. A six-run third inning gave Trenton Catholic all the impetus it needed to coast to a 7-3 victory over Princeton High School Tuesday afternoon on the victors' Westfield. Jack Lackey, who tossed a 20-shutout at the Wave earlier this season, was the victor.

The parochial nine broke the ice with a run in the first and had another tally earned at the plate. Six more were hung up. The third as ten men went to the plate.

The Little Tigers made as many runs as they did hits, doing all their scoring in the top of the fourth. Lackey, Rick Hurford and Bruce Sandvik, who pitched Lackey on the mound, crossed the plate for the losers.

PCB WINS LAST TWO

Topps 500 for Season. A pair of victories in its final two games pushed the Princeton Country Day School baseball team above the break-even point for the season. The Blue and White won three, lost three and tied one in addition to winning the annual Father-Son game.

Mac Morris was the winning pitcher in all of the Blue and White triumphs. He defeated the Fathers' team Saturday, 7 to 1. Morris only ran out of gas when Joe Coffee homered to left center, taking care to hit the ball among the trappings before assembled for the annual Fair.

PCD rallied to edge Wardlaw School on Tuesday, coming from behind to win, 3-2, at Plainfield. After the home team took a 2-0 edge in the second, Country Day narrowed the margin in the fifth when Coffee completed the circuit.

In the sixth, Steve Cook crossed the plate on a single by Captain Charlie Stuart, who went to second on the throw home. Stuart then stole third and Coffee drove in the winning run with his second hit of the day.

SOFTBALL STARTS

In Men's and Girls' League. Harry Kahny and George Bocanuso pitched shutouts to mark the opening games Tuesday evening in the Community Softball League. The circuit includes four teams this season: the Sportsmen, Cenerinos, Pete and Sam's, and the Saminos.

Kahny's four-hitter blanked the Cenerinos for the Sportsmen in an errorless game played on Goble Field. Jim Cunningham limited the opposition to four hits, but the victors got to him for three runs in the first and two more in the fifth.

Bocanuso whitewashed Pete and Mike's for Saminos with a two-hit performance. A run in the second proved to be all he needed, but his mates pitched two more in the fifth. Play will continue this Thursday evening and twice a week throughout the summer.

Action in the Girls' League was scheduled to begin this Wednesday. The season will be sponsored by the Thorne Pharmacy, Clarksville Diner, ETS and Town Topics.

Custom Built Homes In Princeton's
Western Section

Just Minutes From Town on Princeton Pike
Mercer Road

These homes are custom built in the true sense of the word with an eye to the finite details that go to make for a truly custom home, and of course, provisions were made for complete air-conditioning. All houses are on lots of over an acre completely and individually landscaped and have oversized two-car garages. These homes are priced at close to builder's cost and well below the market.

80-Foot Ranch — (Under Construction) — Situated on a lovely high lot. Enter a large, gracious reception foyer; then see the spacious living room with a fireplace and lovely bow picture window — a mahogany paneled den with large glass sliding doors to your garden — full sized dining room and a separate breakfast room, both with picture bow windows — an extremely modern kitchen with all built in appliances — laundry room — 3 oversized bedrooms — 2½ baths — and a full basement. Priced below market $43,500.

2-Story Colonial — 4 bedrooms — 2 baths and a guest powder room — delightful living room with glass sliding doors leading to an outdoor dining patio — and a dream kitchen completely equipped to make your mundane daily chores a pleasant daily interlude. Priced to sell quickly. $44,500.

94-Foot Ranch — (Under Construction) — Situated on a corner lot — 3 large bedrooms — 2½ baths, one bath with double basin vanity — large living room with fireplace and built in bookcases — paneled library or den — dining room — separate breakfast room, both with large bay windows and a completely equipped modern kitchen — laundry room and a large basement. Nothing in the area like it at $44,500.

2-Story Southern Colonial — (Under Construction) — majestically sitting in a group of lovely old trees atop a knoll with its 2 story white columns on a 40 foot portico against a background of old brick is a picture home one must see. 4 oversized bedrooms — 2 baths and a beautifully appointed guest powder room — large living room with a fireplace — mahogany paneled library — full dining room — separate breakfast room — fully equipped kitchen with all birch cabinets and a large laundry and utility room — also a full basement. This home priced at $47,500 is probably Princeton's biggest bargain.

Open House — Saturdays and Sundays 1:30 - 5:00 P.M., or can be seen by appointment. Just 'phone New York City, Oxford 7-3646 (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.) or Princeton, Walnut 1-6592 (Eve.) or contact your own broker.
